What is a billion dollars? A billion dollars is one thousand million dollars.
What is a trillion dollars? A trillion dollars is one thousand billion dollars.
What is the national debt? The total money owed by the United States.

Obama is adding one trillion dollars a year to the national debit. That is 2.7 Billion per day.

DEBT AS A WEAPON OF MASS DESTRUCTION
To do this Obama must go beyond promoting decline and work to create collapse. Collapse would really change the global equation, causing a sharp fall in our standard of living, but it also changes America's place in the world. America ceases to be a superpower; perhaps America ceases to be a first world country.
 It has to do with using debt to bring down the colonial oppressor and level the standard of living between America and the developing countries.
Through debt we become beholden to the rest of the world. Debt will make them richer and us poorer.

Reference: Obama's America. Dinesh D'Souza
For corrections, suggestion and additions send email to rotaryeng@earthlink.net
Print this and mail it to your non computer friends and family. First in a series.